

NHSHP Co-Sponsored Dinner/CE

Novel Approaches to Sedation in Acute Care Settings

Presented by: Richard R. Riker, MD
Clinical Associate Professor, University of Vermont College of Medicine

Objectives:

- Evaluate methods for the systematic assessment of patient sedation and analgesia in acute care settings to optimize use of appropriate sedatives and analgesics
- Analyze current research data to reevaluate use of sedatives and analgesics in specific patient populations
- Analyze pharmacoeconomic data in the selection of therapeutic agents in acute care settings to reduce healthcare costs

Tuesday May 20, 2008

The Event Center at CR Sparks Restaurant

- › 75 seats are available for this FREE program
- › Registration/Dinner 5:30 PM – 6:00 PM
- › Presentation and Interactive Question and Answer Session 6:00-7:30 PM

Register online at www.accessCME.org

Choose live event and select the corresponding activity

RSVP by Thursday, May 15, 2008